WHEN YOU REAP THE HARVEST...

One of the Levitical laws that the Lord gave to his people Israel speaks of helping those that are suffering: “When you reap the harvest of your land, do not reap to the very edges of your field or gather the gleanings of your harvest. Do not go over your vineyard a second time or pick up the grapes that have fallen. Leave them for the poor and foreigner. I am the Lord your God.” (Leviticus 19:9)

Our LBIM missionaries serving in Chad are living and ministering among the poorest of the poor. According to the United Nations World Food Program, a staggering 66% of the population live in severe poverty. According to the World Bank, Chad is ranked last on the World Bank’s Human Capital Index, which measures the anticipated productivity of its citizens based on health, education, and economic opportunity. Life expectancy in Chad is 55 years of age. One in five children won’t survive to their 5th birthday. The adult literacy rate is 38%. You get the picture. The people of Chad are in great need.

Central Region Team 2020 helping with Grain Distribution

Your LBIM missionaries in Chad are not only proclaiming the gospel to people who have not heard it but are also living in community with the least of these. Because of this, mercy ministries such as famine and refugee relief, health care, education and community development are all important elements of LBIM’s ministry in Chad.

In 2020, Chad has experienced record rainfall and flooding, damaging homes and crops. A month-long dry spell in the south during the middle of the crucial summer rainy season has resulted in significant crop failure. Roving bands of elephants and swarms of locusts are devastating the fields of subsistence farmers. An ongoing influx of refugees pouring into Chad, from neighboring war-ravaged countries such as Nigeria and Central African Republic has resulted in sparsely available resources stretched even more thinly.

LBIM is committed to sharing food with the hungry, clean water for the thirsty and shelter for the homeless. We are so thankful for the yearly Thanksgiving and Christmas offerings we receive from our churches that go towards famine and refugee relief in Chad. These funds are managed and distributed according to regional need. LBIM and EFLT (Chadian) leadership and field missionaries work together towards the responsible and efficient use of funds to meet the need where it is most felt. Thank you for helping us to share the spiritual and physical blessings of God.
